ROYAL GUEST FROM CHINA IS WELCOMED DEMOCRATS REVOLT AGAINST THE BOSS

Royal Salute To Chinese Prince Received With Full Honors Of Military Escort---On Way To Mainland

Long before the Manchuria entered the inner harbor the escort for Prince Sun and party was in waiting in front of Alaka street wharf and there was a great crowd of spectators kept in line on the sidewalk by marine patroling each side of the street.

Nothing or nobody was allowed to pass out of Alaka street toward the water and for a block on each side of the wharf the roadway was kept clear.

The Manchuria decorated with ship's flags from stern to stern and with the Dragon Banner of China fluttering from her foremast was an impressive sight as she came in through the channel and made for the wharf. In order that the noted visitors might use the starboard side of the steamer in disembarking backing into the wharf was tried but it was found to be impossible without too much delay and so the big ship came in bow first as usual.

Secretary Mott Smith, Admiral Ross and Colonel Schuyler went on board as soon as the gang plank was made fast and escorted the visitors to the wharf.

There in the middle of the wharf automobiles were in waiting and here the whole party embarked.

EXPERT CARL SMITH MAKES REPORT ON THE HILO ROAD CONTRACTS

HILO, Sept. 10.—The report of Carl Smith, who was engaged as special counsel by the Board of Trade to report on what steps might be taken in connection with the irregularities which the Board's committee had found in connection with the Honolulu contracts, was finished last Thursday, and was submitted to the officers of the Board.

The report goes into the details of the various matters which were taken up by the Board of Trade, and the remedy, or reason why there is no remedy, is set forth in every case.

The report which will be taken up at the regular meeting of the Board of Trade reads in full as follows:

September 7, 1910.

E. E. Richards, Esq.,
President, Hilo Board of Trade,
Hilo, Hawaii.

Dear Sir:
Some weeks ago you placed in my hands a communication dated August 5, 1910, signed by D. E. Metzger and others, who had theretofore been appointed a Committee to investigate the construction of the New Honolulu Road. I have very carefully examined the document left with me and have made

"BUTCH" LEADS OTHER NEWSIES

Boys Sell Many Thousands of Papers in Contest for Prizes.

ORDER OF STANDING.

- 1—Joe Carvalho.
- 2—John Hooman.
- 3—Poipoi.
- 4—James Hawaii.
- 5—Oliveiro.
- 6—Akana.

Master Joe Carvalho, known to a legion of newsboy cronies, as well as many of the patrons of the street news merchants, as "Butch," leads off in the Bulletin's newsboys' contest, with a score of two thousand four hundred and eleven papers sold in twelve days. And the circulation manager says that is going some for one small boy.

It is just a few papers, but when you know how determined "Butch" is to win the Sterling bicycle that the Bulletin has offered to the boy who sells the most papers in a stated period, it is not so surprising that the prize creates the energy and the paper does the rest.

But "Butch" is not to have that bicycle without a contest. There is a native son of these islands hot after him, who promises to show the diminutive news butcher what it is to sell papers. And his total of sales for the two weeks past makes it evident that it is not all talk on his part either. He closes the two week period with a total of two thousand

WILHELMINA'S CREW TALKS

Quarantine Doctor and Ship's
Officers State All Hands
Were Vaccinated.

Regarding the unpleasantness between the officers and crew of the Wilhelmina, and which terminated in a lookout for the members of the crew that went ashore last night against the orders of the officers of the ship, a delegation, consisting of nine of the crew called at the Bulletin office this morning and stated their side of the story which is as follows:

After leaving Hilo the captain of the Wilhelmina gave orders that all of the effects of the crew, including the engineers and stewards departments should be piled into the "glory hole," the place where the crew lives, and that the same be fumigated. This move was protested against by the whole crew and a delegation called on the doctor of the ship for the day on such a move. The ship's doctor professed ignorance on the subject. The belongings of the crew were not fumigated however at that time, but as soon as the ship was tied up to the quarantine wharf the crew were hustled ashore with all of their belongings and a thorough fumigation was given and all of the crew vaccinated. The officers of the ship did not share in this fumigation business, neither did the stewardess, who handled the men who were down with the emalgama is the claim of the men.

When they arrived on this side of the bay all hands except the crew were allowed to go ashore, even those

PROHIBITION DID KUHIO IS NAMED THINGS TO MAINE TERRITORY'S DELEGATE

(Associated Press Cable.)

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 13.—Final returns from the State election show that the Democrats have elected the Governor, a majority of the Legislature and two Congressmen.

The Congressmen elected are Guernsey, Republican, from the First District, and Asher Hinds, Republican, from the Fourth District. Hinds has been for years the parliamentary clerk of the House of Representatives, and now takes the seat once occupied by Thomas B. Reed.

The Democrats elect Congressman S. W. Gould in the Second District, defeating ex-Governor E. C. Burleigh, who has served the district in Congress many terms and was next to Congressman Barthold in the ranking member of the House Committee on Public Buildings. In the Third Congressional District, formerly represented by C. E. Littlefield, the Democrats elect Dan J. Gillcuddy in place of Swosey, renominated by the Republicans. Mr. Gillcuddy has been the Democratic candidate for Congress in nearly every campaign for the last fifteen years.

The Democrats have secured a majority of both houses of the Legislature and will elect a successor to United States Senator Hale.

One of the leading features of the Democratic campaign on the State ticket was the demand for resubmission of the Prohibition question to a vote of the people. This can only be accomplished through a vote of the Legislature to revise the constitution of the State. Such a vote, though often attempted, could not be secured from a Republican Legislature.

Prince Nominated for Fourth Time on Republican Platform.

CALLS ON CONVENTION FOR UNITED EFFORT

The Territorial Republican Convention has finished its labors, has promulgated the Republican platform principles for the campaign of 1910 and has nominated Prince Kuhio for the fourth time as Delegate to Congress.

The convention completed its labors at its session last night, which convened at 7:30.

Kuhio was placed in nomination by A. J. C. Atkinson, who, in making his remarks on the good work of the Delegate, stated that it was almost useless to nominate him for that was done to all intents and purposes by the platform. Atkinson pointed out the party promises that have been fulfilled by the ability of the Delegate. He referred to the large appropriations for public works that have been secured by Kuhio. Atkinson spoke of the manifest absurdity of having the Territory represented by a Democrat at Washington, declaring that the welfare of Hawaii demanded that Kuhio be returned to Washington as Delegate to Congress for another term.

Kuhio's nomination was seconded by Stephen Desha of Hilo, who spoke in Hawaiian and in the manner which has won him fame throughout the Territory as an eloquent speaker. Desha's remarks were applauded liberally and when he concluded Chairman Crabbe caused laughter by asking if there were any further nominations.

On the motion of C. A. Rice of Kaula Kuhio was then nominated by acclamation and after being escorted to the platform by Carl Smith and

THE HAGUE COURT DECISION IS ACCEPTED

(Associated Press Cable.)

THE HAGUE, Sept. 13.—The New Zealand fisheries award is now irrevocable. Under the rules of the International Court, an award becomes established if the parties thereto fail to dispute the action of the court within five days of the submission of its decision. Neither Great Britain nor the United States has presented any objection to the award, which was in favor of the United States on five of seven points.

REFERENDUM FOR ARKANSAS

(Associated Press Cable.)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 13.—Returns from the State election show that the Democrats carried the State by nearly 20,000, which is the normal majority. The main issue of the campaign was the declaration on the proposal to apply the initiative and referendum to State legislation. It now appears that the vote is favorable to this new departure.

Name Legislative Nominees Tonight Brown, Chillingworth and Judd Favorites For Senate Nominations

The candidates for nominations to the House and Senate on the Republican ticket are busy today lining up their forces for the final session of the City and County and District Convention which convenes tonight, a close contest being promised in the balloting for nominations.

Cecil Brown seemed to have gained considerable strength in the course of the last few days and Charles Chillingworth and Albert Judd are considered to be the other two candidates for nomination who have the best chance to secure the endorsement of the convention.

The four other Senatorial candidates Clarence Crabbe, John Hughes, Joe Cohen and Charles Achi are generally considered to be the weakest of the aspirants, whose names will be voted upon tonight. Cohen is conceded to be out of the calculations. Hughes and Crabbe may show unexpected strength and be able to poll more votes than the supporters of the other candidates expect.

The selection of a man representative of the Portuguese citizens is one of the problems that will come before the convention, Marcellino being generally favored as a successor to Castro who is now on the mainland but

LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN SEARCH FOR WOMAN WHO IS WANTED AS WITNESS

It is pretty well established that of San Francisco, declaring that a lady Luella Smith the star witness in the Burke case which agitated the mainland for some time, was for a short while a resident of Honolulu. Some weeks ago Chief of Detectives McDuffie received a cable from San Francisco asking him to arrest Luella Smith who was supposed to be at a hotel at Waikiki. The chief once made investigations but discovered that no such person had ever resided at the hotel in question. A cable was sent to the coast telling of the facts, and immediately another message came from the police

There were some nervous jurors in Judge Cooper's court this morning soon after the salute-firing in the Palace grounds commenced, that giving them more interest in life than the monotonous droning of the jurors put to witnesses by Attorney Quinn.

After the first few shots of the first salute were fired, a crack occurred in the ceiling of the courtroom just over the jury box, and with each succeeding report of the guns the crack widened a little.

REPUBLICANS PLAN LUAU

Republicans in general—insurgents, standpatters, successful candidates and defeated candidates—are going to celebrate the conclusion of conventions and the beginning of the campaign. The celebration is going to be a loan of generous proportions and lengthy program.

It is intended to make the loan something to be remembered, and it is expected that it will throw a spirit of harmony upon the Republican atmosphere and make a fitting opening for the campaign.

BELMER CHOSSES WATERY GRAVE

British Steamer Romera Arrives Minus An Oiler.

Evidently tiring of life, and being of a "spooky" disposition, Belmer, an oiler on board the British steamer Romera, which arrived this morning, jumped overboard and was drowned at sea.

It was about 11 o'clock at night, a week ago, that Belmer bade farewell to his friends and, leaving his stateroom, quietly walked forward and jumped overboard. A few minutes afterwards some of his friends found that he was missing. A careful search of the steamer further assured those on board that he was missing. The matter was reported to Captain Fair, who stopped the steamer at once with a view to picking up the missing man.

After some time spent in search for the suicide, without avail, Captain Fair proceeded on his way to Honolulu.

The Romera, which made a passage of 61 days from Newport News, brought about 6500 tons of coal for the naval station, which she is unloading at the naval wharf.

The Romera belongs to the MacLay & M. Irvine Steamship Company of Glasgow. The date of her departure has not yet been stated.

About 1,000,000 square miles of the Russian Empire is covered by forests, of which the Government owns about 50 per cent.
